

myself; Jacob Valentine, Clarence Valentine and Edgar Valentine, Jr. and Helen Valentine Stunkel and Mary Gartrell.

Q These are daughters?

A Yes, my sisters; and Agnes Zimmerman, and Rachel Bostian.

Q Mr. Bostian, her husband, is dead, is that right?

A Yes.

Q Is that all of them?

A I think so.

Q That is all of the brothers and sisters, children of your late father, is that right?

A Yes, four brothers and four sisters.

Q You desire that that property be sold and the property be distributed equally among all eight children?

A Yes, sir.

Q (The Court) Is it possible to divide it in kind between the parties?

A Yes, sir.

Q You think it could be divided up - the real estate?

MR. BROWN: We will admit the property itself couldn't be divided.

Q And that the parties are not able to agree upon a time and place of sale of the property, is that correct?

A Well, it seems like they want to put us off.

Q Answer the question you answered a while ago: you said there was no possibility of agreement among the parties.

A No.

Q You feel that the parties can or cannot agree as to a time and place of sale?

A Yes, cannot.

Q Cannot. And do you feel that it would be for the best interests of the parties for the Court to appoint trustees to sell this property and divide the proceeds therefrom among the parties entitled to the benefits?